The rumor of an epidemic of typhoid fever at Yale is officially denied.

The election in Portugal resulted in a victory for the present Government.

Three San Francisco toughs brutally assaulted Mrs. Curtis, a widow. They were captured.

The President has appointed Oscar F. Williams, of New York, United States Consul at Havre, France.

The world's championship game between the New York and Brooklyn clubs was postponed on account of rain.

The Chicago Grand Jury yesterday indicted J. J. West and C. E. Graham for fraud in the management of the Times.

Kisber, who recently attempted to assassinate Prince William of Wurtemberg, has been found to be an Anarchist.

The office of Inspector of Foreign Vessels has been done away with at San Francisco, New Orleans and Philadelphia.

The foreign guests of the nation who are making their way westward are a decidedly patriotic body of gentlemen, who lose no opportunity to show that they are thoroughly imbued with American sentiment. In their speeches and toasts they indicate very clearly a most hearty and cordial sympathy with the plan of bringing all American countries into more intimate relations with one another, and of forming such a compact as will secure the protection of all against every form of European interference of aggression. They are particularly eloquent in their references to the United States, and the tour they are making can not fail to impress them with the greatness of this country, although they will see on their present trip but a small part of it. The wisdom of the tour is already fully justified. The foreign delegates will return to Washington with reflections favorable to the purpose of the conference which they could not have conceived had they not been given the opportunity to visit so much of the country.

Senator Sherman, in his recent speeches in Ohio, has distinctly said that there should be a revision of the tariff. "I do not deny," he said, "that there is a propriety in a revision of the tariff laws. Changes of the relative value of articles compel a frequent revision of the rates of duties." The speeches of Senator Allison in Iowa show that he is not averse to a careful revision of the tariff, and quite generally in Republican quarters there is a desire manifested that the representatives of the party in Congress shall promptly consider the tariff question and dispose of it, making such a revision and modification of the existing duties as will give needed relief to the consumers of the country without injury to any established industry.

The seventh vacancy in the House of Representatives of the Fifty-first Congress was made by the recent resignation of Hon. W. N. Cutting, of New York. Five of the seven members have died since the last meeting of Congress. Ryan, of Kansas, resigned to take the Ministership to Mexico, and Nutting resigned on account of ill-health. Four of the vacancies have already been filled, and successors to Cutting, Cox and Laird will be chosen November 5. The complexion of the House will not be changed by the new members.

American engineers who projected and for years have advocated the Nicaragua canal may presently see a consummation of that enterprise. The trouble between Costa Rica and Nicaragua having been settled, an early resumption of work on the canal may be looked for. Water communication between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans via this route is far more practicable than by the proposed but abandoned Panama ship canal.

Iowa farmers are gathering splendid crops of apples, potatoes and corn. The hog crop is unusually promising and the State will have a greater surplus of food stuffs than ever before.

A SMALL WHISPER.

Cassidy tells this in the last Sentinel.

There is a still small whisper floating through the circumambient air of San Francisco and Western Nevada to the effect that next year when the U. S. Senatorship is offered for sale in this State, ex-Senator James G. Fair, of San Francisco, intends buying it for his hopeful young son James G., Jr. It will be remembered that young Jim was sent as one of the delegates to the St. Louis Convention last year in the place of old Jim. He departed himself becomingly and won laurels all around for his strength of character. The sire now believes that with the possession of the Senatorial toy as an incentive the young man would be placed on his metal and responsibility and become an ornament to the "American House of Lords." The rumor goes that he is willing to spend a million on the experiment. Well, we might fare worse than get young Jim for a Senator. We might get the old man again. Seriously, we cannot be badly damaged no matter where it goes.

The True Silver Policy.

The suggestion of the Omaha Bee that in its silver policy the United States must assume "absolute independence" is eminently the correct one. By restoring silver to its full place in the coinage, the United States can force Europe to do the same. All that is lacking is a disposition on the part of the National Treasury officials—

New York Democrats Paving the Way to Defeat—A Blooded Spanish Sport.

Special to the JOURNAL.

New York, Oct. 21.—Thomas Johnson, a stone-cutter, of No. 108 Pineapple street, Brooklyn, was returning from Harlem River Park with a party of friends early yesterday morning. At One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Third avenue they met a party of young people.

Johnson raised his hat to the girls and said, "ah, there!"

A man who was with the girls struck Johnson and they clinched. Then Johnson was stabbed. His assailant fled, Johnson's friends pursued him. Policeman Smith joined in the chase and caught him. He was Joseph Attinger, an ex-convict.

Johnson was taken to the Harlem Hospital, where it was found that the knife had made a terrible wound in his back, penetrating the right lung. The surgeon says his case is very serious. Attinger was arraigned later in the Harlem Police Court, and remanded to wait the result of Johnson's injuries.

Johnson's friends claim they knew the girls whom they saluted.

The Rattle Spread.

Special to the JOURNAL.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—At about 1:15 yesterday morning the fast express train which left Philadelphia at 9:40 was derailed at Rahway, N. J., and the entire train of five passenger coaches, smoker and locomotive jumped the track, tearing up the rails and ties for a distance of 200 yards. The train was going at the rate of about forty miles an hour, and it is regarded as remarkable that there was not some loss of life. There were on board about 200 passengers, including Kirtley's theatrical troupe. No one was seriously injured, but all the passengers received a terrible shaking up, while some suffered more or less bruises. Much excitement prevailed among the passengers and some of Kirtley's ebrious girls fainted. The hind trucks of the last car remained on the tracks, which prevented the train from being derailed. The accident was caused by the rails spreading.

Their First and Last Quarrel.

Special to the JOURNAL.

New York, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Lucy Eddy, 20 years old, only a year married, and the mother of a seven-weeks-old child, ended her life yesterday by drinking two ounces of carbolic acid at her home, No. 261 Livingston street.

Mrs. Eddy was a victim of neuralgia, and for days acted as though out of her mind. Mr. Eddy had a few words with his wife at noon yesterday about a trifle. He threw himself on the bed and dropped to sleep. He was awakened by his wife's screams. She told him she had taken poison and was dying. Eddy had Dr. Huxley summoned, who tried to save the young wife's life, but all his efforts were fruitless. She died last evening in terrible agony. The husband felt some remorse about having the tiff with his wife. He said: "It was the first time. We always lived happily together. She had no reason to kill herself."

A Spanish Sport Astonishing Paris.

Special to the JOURNAL.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—A Spanish merchant is exciting much attention at present among the gambling houses. He never plays for less than $3,000, and appears in many ways to be the successor of the famous Spanish Marquis who some years ago went through a fortune of $8,000,000 in four years. One day toward the close of his career he lost $50,000 at one sitting, but he left the table as cheerfully as if he had won a fortune. He was very thin until he was ruined, when all at once he became tremendously stout, and remained so until he died the other day of apoplexy. His funeral was unattended except by the undertaker, and the expense of his burial had to be defrayed by public charity.

Quarrelling Politicians.

Special to the JOURNAL.

New York, Oct. 21.—There is war again between Tammany and the County Democracy. The cause of the conflict this time is the election of a successor to the late Congressman Cox. The County Democracy favors ex-Mayor Hewitt for the powerful nomination, while its more powerful rival advocates Daniel Dougherty, Burke Cochrane or Thomas G. Grady. All these well-known Democrats, except Grady, are averse to having Congressional honors thrust upon them, each alleging that his private affairs monopolize all his time and attention.

EMMETTSBURG, Ia., Oct. 21.—It has been discovered that Esquire Burlingame, who has performed many marriage ceremonies, has also been acting in the capacity of Deputy County Clerk. This is contrary to law, and invalidates all his acts as Justice of the Peace. Many couples married by Burlingame will have the ceremony repeated in order to make the contracts valid.

A Wife's Confession—Report of the Governors of Arizona and Idaho.

Special to the JOURNAL.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—Frank J. Bowman, a well-known lawyer, who has figured in so many matrimonial troubles here and in Chicago, was shot and killed this afternoon at Ferguson, Mo., by D. Chambers.

The killing grew out of the trouble over the Times newspaper. Chambers was a large stockholder and the principal owner of the paper up to the time of its demise. Bowman was also financially interested in it, and had been in litigation with Chambers.

This afternoon, in company with Deputy Sheriff Garrett, he called at Chambers' home and told him he had come to levy on the property. Chambers, with a shotgun, ordered the Deputy Sheriff out of his yard, and Garrett went.

"Now, Bowman, I'll give you three minutes to get out of these grounds," said Chambers. Bowman didn't move, and Chambers fired a load into Bowman's breast, killing him.

Chambers walked into the house, where he remained awaiting arrest, while Bowman's body lay in a pool of blood in the yard.

Report of Arizona's Governor.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Governor Wolfley, of Arizona, in his annual report, asks that Congress again pass a law disfranchising all who teach or practice polygamy in the territory.

The Governor says that with the exception of ore, Arizona cannot be said to have any exports, as transportation is too high to permit of anything else being exported. The Territory must have, he states, two lines of north and south railroads to connect with the east and west transcontinental railroads, and transportation on these roads be restricted to a moderate limit.

He also requests that Congress pass an Act authorizing the Territory to issue long-time bonds.

The mineral products for the year 1888 were: Copper, 31,797,300 pounds; gold, $850,000; silver, $500,000.

Land entries aggregated 507,799 acres, of the value of $99,081.

A Guilty Wife's Confession.

Special to the JOURNAL.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 21.—The trial of Wm. H. Bartholomew for the murder of Washington Dillard, was stopped suddenly today by the confession of the widow of the murdered man, who came into court and testified that she had sustained improper relations with Bartholomew two years before the death of her husband. They finally determined to murder Dillard, and Bartholomew fired Dillard's gun so it was useless. Bartholomew then said he would come to the house the next night and would make a disturbance in the chicken roost, when Mrs. Dillard should bring her husband out with his gun and Bartholomew would kill him. The programme was carried out. Dillard went out with the gun, and was shot dead by his wife's paramour. The woman broke down several times while telling the story.

MONTANA MUST HASTEN.

SHE IS LIKELY TO BE OMITTED IN THE STATEHOOD PROCLAMATION.

It Is Generally Understood in Official Circles That the President Will Not Wait Much Longer.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—The belief was general in Washington to-day that President Harrison was about to issue his proclamation admitting the Dakota and Washington to Statehood, and a great many inquiries were made at the State Department and White House concerning the document.

It was believed that the President would leave Montana out of his proclamation on account of the Territorial officers being unable to certify the election to the President as required by law.

The anticipation of the proclamation is due to the work now going on by the Legislature of South Dakota at Pierre. It was believed that the Governor of South Dakota and the officers elected, would not convene the Legislature and begin work, setting apart to-morrow for the election of United States Senators, without first receiving an indication from the President that the proclamation admitting the new States to the Union would be issued.

At the White House it was stated this afternoon that the proclamation, although it has been prepared at the State Department, has not been laid before the President; that the delay is due to the contention in Montana between the two political parties.

The President made no statement as to what he intended to do, but in official circles the impression prevails to-night that the proclamation will soon issue without Montana unless the result of the election there is very soon determined. The mandates case, which is to come before the court on the 1st of November for the purpose of determining the result of the election in one or more counties in that Territory, seems to be an announcement that the returns will be delayed at the White House until at least a week in November.

There are good reasons why the States of North and South Dakota and Washington should be admitted into the Union at once. The finances of those States are low and the Legislatures will immediately be called upon to make appropriations. The law authorizing the admission of four States provides that the Legislatures may meet before the States are admitted, elect United States Senators and certify them to the President. The Legislatures may also, although they are not so authorized, specifically, go into preliminary work of debates and legislation, but nothing can be done in the way of legislating finally until the President's proclamation has been issued.

Although Governor Mellette, of South Dakota, has been inaugurated Governor of that State, he has not relinquished his federal powers as Governor of the two Dakotas and he will continue to represent the Government and draw his salary until the President has issued his proclamation and he has taken the oath as Governor of the State of South Dakota.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

The Amounts Asked Exceed the Appropriations Several Millions.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Brigadier General Casey, Chief of Engineers, in his annual estimates submitted to the Secretary of War, makes a number of recommendations for appropriations for continuing work on some of the principal improvements under his charge during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1891, among which are the following:

Ohio river, $600,000; St. Mary's river, St. Mary's Falls, $1,236,000; Fox river, Wisconsin, $200,000; Wabash river, Indiana and Illinois, $110,000; Calumet river, Indiana and Illinois, $100,000; Illinois river, $390,000; Mississippi river, Minneapolis to the Des Moines rapids, $1,000,000; Mississippi river, Des Moines to the Illinois river, $300,000; Mississippi river, Illinois to Ohio river, $600,000; Chicago harbor, $172,000; harbor of refuge, Milwaukee bay, $150,000; harbor of refuge, St. Louis bay, Wisconsin, $100,000.

The total amount recommended by General Casey for river and harbor improvements is $30,185,300. The total amount appropriated by the River and Harbor bill for the year ending June 30, 1890, was $22,396,617.

The Mississippi river commission recommends appropriations for the fiscal year 1890-1 of $5,585,250, among which are the following items:

Continuing surveys, $150,000; from mouth of Ohio river, $4,000,000.

The Missouri river commission asks $2,760,000, including salaries, surveys, etc., $150,000 general improvements, $1,000,000; special work at Sioux City, Omaha, Plattsmouth, Nebraska City, Brule, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, Miami and Arrow Rock, $1,375,000; the river above and below Sioux City, $80,000.

A KICK FOR PROTECTION

AMERICAN RAILROADS ALARMED OVER CANADIAN COM-PETITION.

Various Companies Will Unite in a Demand for Protective Legislation.

Special to the JOURNAL.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—It looked out to-day that the northwestern roads will join the Southern Pacific in its forthcoming demand on Congress for legislation protecting roads in the United States from the unchecked competition of Canadian lines. The assistance of the northwestern lines will be due partly to the fact that they feel most keenly the effect of competition, and partly because the central traffic and trunk lines issue joint tariffs with Canadian lines and refuse to do so with the western roads. Said an agent of one of the northwestern roads to-day:

"Senator Davis, of Minnesota, claims there will be no legislation at the coming session of Congress against Canadian roads, but I think he is mistaken. The chances are that when navigation closes rates to the northwest will be raised. The 'Soo' has agreed to an advance, and the Chicago-St. Paul lines will certainly agree. Our line has never been in favor of the 15-cent proportional rate between Chicago and St. Paul, which the Burlington & Northern forced on us, but if the rate is raised to 30 cents we want all the traffic we can get. If the rates are raised there will still exist the same discrepancy between the local and proportion of the through rates, which is now 40 cents for the former and 15 cents for the latter. Remember, too, that we can only carry through traffic at the 15-cent rate from lines which issue joint tariffs with us. Otherwise Judge Gooley has adjudged such tariff illegal. I don't see any right or justice in the eastern roads practically robbing us of traffic and turning it over to foreign corporations. None of the northwestern roads, except the Burlington & Northern, care particularly now whether the eastern roads issue tariffs jointly with us or not, but if the rates can be raised on a paying basis you will see a kick that will amount to something."

Carey's friends are with him. He is a hotel keeper in Portland, Conn. When seen last, he had $350 and a diamond staff. These were gone when he was found.

Reverend Claimants for Office.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—George W. Robertson, of Mount Vernon, Ind., during the last Presidential campaign acted as private secretary to Chairman Houston, refusing to accept any salary and paying his own expenses. For five months he gratuitously served the State Committee in the expectation of being appointed a bank examiner. Treasurer Huston has since endeavored to secure this place for Robertson, but the objection is made that the First Congressional District of Indiana has already received a conspicuous appointment, and that it has been agreed to give a show to the districts not yet similarly recognized in the distribution of the spoils. The incident serves to show that Indiana's appetite grows by what it feeds on.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

"Dorothy Dexter's" Notes on Washington Society Happenings

Washington, Oct. 14.

The conclave held here by the Knights Templar was a splendid success, the Knights generally pronouncing it the grandest ever held in this country. The city was gayly and elaborately decorated with flags and streamers, harmoniously blended with emblems of Masonry. The parade was wonderfully grand and imposing. There were 15,000 Knights in line, accompanied by 93 bands.

The Golden Gate Commandery, of San Francisco, arrayed in their magnificent uniforms, heavily embroidered with silver bullion, and accompanied by a grizzly bear mounted upon a gorgeously painted pedestal representing Golden Gate harbor, were vociferously cheered by the spectators as they passed in front of the reviewing stand. The "little commandery" from the Masonic Home at Louisville, Kentucky, carried the day by storm, as it came up with its band playing "Old Kentucky Home." These little fellows executed with grace and precision the most difficult maneuvers known to the Knights Templar manual drill. In the exhibition drill one of these little boys, not more than eight years old, had his hat knocked off, but, like a veteran, he moved on, seemingly unaware of his loss. The spectators were wild with delight, and cheered him again and again.

The reception tendered the Sir Knights by President Harrison at the White House was a brilliant affair. The mansion was handsomely decorated with potted and tropical plants in profusion. The President received in the Red Parlor, assisted by Mrs. Harrison and the ladies of the Cabinet, except Mrs. Blaine, who was out of the city. The President shook hands with each as presented, but Mrs. Harrison carried in one hand a large bouquet of roses, and in the other a fan made of three splendid ostrich feathers, thus announcing her determination to do away with the senseless and tiresome custom of hand-shaking at the receptions. Each introduction was acknowledged by a graceful inclination of her head. The reception began at 8:30, and a stream poured in and out of the mansion until 11 o'clock, when the doors were closed. It is estimated that fully 25,000 people were in line waiting to shake hands with the President, but not more than one-third of that number reached him. It was a glorious moonlight night, and many of the commandery bands escorted their members to and from the White House.

The reception given by Mrs. Logan was not less brilliant and well-appointed than that given by the President. Her home, Calumet Place, was a perfect fairy scene, gay with flags and bunting, and the illumination of the house and grounds was novel and bewilderingly beautiful. A stand for the accommodation of the famous Marine band was erected on the lawn, and a choice programme of music was rendered. Mrs. Logan, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Tucker, and Mrs. J. A. Logan Jr., of Youngstown, Ohio, received her guests in the spacious central hall of the house. Mrs. Logan is one of the handsomest and most popular of the many distinguished women residing in this city. Gen. Logan was a Knight Templar, being a member of the Chevalier Bayard Commandery, of Chicago, and it is his devotion to his memory which caused her to interest herself so actively in entertaining the Sir Knights.

Mrs. Logan, accompanied by her son, called upon the Golden Gate Commandery, at the Normandie, where they so royally entertained their guests. The Knights in return presented their favorite "grizzly" to her little grandson, Logan Tucker.

The members of the Grand Commandery of California felt greatly slighted that Mrs. Logan did not honor them with her presence, but the sting of this slight was forgotten in their pleasure in receiving from Mrs. Harrison a magnificent floral piece in Masonic design, made of the sweetest and prettiest carnation pinks.

The Knights left feeling they had been most royally welcomed and entertained, and saying Washington, above all others, was pre-eminently the place for holding the World's Fair.

The approaching marriage of ex-Secretary Bayard and Miss Mary Wilking Clymers is the subject most discussed by society. It will take place early in November at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, in this city.

Congressmen are beginning to arrive and are making ready for the work of the coming session. The Speaker's possibilities are chiefly talked of. The knowing ones are pretty certain Congressman Reed will draw the "lucky number."

A MINING SALE.

An Important Transaction for Eureka.

The Eureka Sentinel says: Ten months ago Mr. Cassidy of this paper undertook the sale of the Diamond mine on Prospect Mountain for its owners. He made a contract with Richard Macintosh for $50,000, certain work to be performed by Mr. Macintosh. The whole business was finally consummated the past week, and Mr. Macintosh paid out $75,000 in cash for the Diamond and Antelope properties. This is the best sale that has been made in Eureka for twenty years. It is new blood, and means new life and business for the camp.

The Diamond promise to be a great property. It is not fully developed as yet. We are to have sampling mill here by the Salt Lake parties, and this, together with the new cheap transportation rate, will make Eureka the best camp in the State next year. The smelting trust is "busted," and all things are once more bright for the Base Range. The parties received the money from the sale were Dan H. Foley, $30,000; Dennis O'Leary, $15,000; Morris Bros., $15,000; Pat Finnegan, $15,000. In addition to the purchase money, Mr. Macintosh has spent about $25,000 in developments, so, in round numbers, the deal represents about $100,000 of cash money to the camp.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents per bottle.

Raising the Dam.

The Truckee Republican says James Mayberry has a large force of men at work at Donner Lake. The dam recently constructed by the Truckee Lumber Company will be raised about four feet, and then the outlet will be deepened by about the same distance. This will allow the holding of and subsequent drawing off of about twelve feet of the lake's surface for irrigating purposes.

Eastern Conductors En Route.

A special train of ten Pullman cars, containing 163 Eastern conductors and their wives and friends, passed through Reno Sunday morning on their way to San Francisco, where, next Tuesday, the 22d inst., the regular annual convention of a conductors' benevolent association known as the "Old Reliable Life Insurance of Railroad Conductors of the United States and Canada," will be held.

Knight of Honor Masquerade.

On Nov. 28, Thanksgiving night, the Knights of Honor will give away the following magnificent prizes: First prize, lady's elegant gold watch; second prize, lady's magnificent toilet set; first prize, gentleman's gold watch; second prize, gentleman's gold headed cane; also special prizes for best groups, not less than six, ladies or gentlemen. The finest costume in San Francisco has been engaged for the occasion.

The Republican State.

The Eureka Sentinel guesses as follows: A gentleman from the western part of the State, who is in position to know, tells us that the Republican state is already made up for next year's political contest in Nevada. Indeed it has been made up for a good many months. It comprises the names of J. P. Jones for Senator, W. E. Sharon for Governor and Frank G. Newlands, of California, for Member of Congress. Our informant says there is no question that this is the programme as it has been arranged in San Francisco by the railroads and the magazines of the leading mines on the Comstock. We have but little doubt of the correctness of the information, and further that the goods will be delivered in the Republican State Convention. We can think of but one possible kicker against the programme, and he lives in White Pine, and has more ability, within certain lines, than all of the Republican leaders put together in Nevada.

The Only Certain Road to Victory.

The best possible chances of Republican success will lie in the making of an Administration satisfactory to the country. If that is done there need be no fear of the Democracy coming into power again in 1892; and if it is not done it will come into power. The Republicans now have a fair majority in both branches of Congress; they have the executive office, and can do what they like. From now until November they will be subject to the criticism and attacks of the opposition, and every mistake they make will be known, proclaimed and magnified. They cannot, therefore, do too much for the country's welfare, nor commit too few blunders. If they would keep control of the Government, it will depend much more upon themselves than upon the Democrats, whether they win or lose in 1892.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Belmont Courier says:

Newspaper correspondents spoke very highly of the exhibit of apples made at the Nevada State Fair by Alexander McCulloch, P. Nelson and other orchardists of Nevada. Notwithstanding this nearly all of the premiums on fruit were awarded to Mrs. Kelly, of Western Nevada. The Reno Journal says that the display of fruit by P. Nelson was especially fine and worthy of special mention.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap and good soap? Cheap house or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one sure to bring universal satisfaction at a price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for patients as the famous BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle we do not do it we will say nothing.

JOKING IN EARNEST.

Franks Which Often Proceed from Serious or Malicious Purpose.

The various professions have their own records of practical jokes, which too often proceed from some serious or malicious purpose. One such prank, undertaken with vengeful design, was that of the Belgian painter Wirtz, who, year after year, sent pictures to the Salon, only to have them returned, as the judges, whose duty it was to pass upon the pictures submitted, would have nothing to do with him.

Finally he became possessed of a genuine Rubens, which he sent off to the Salon bearing his own name. It was at once sent back to him, and then, as the phrase goes, he had the judges on the hip, and could taunt them with not knowing the work of a master when they saw it.

Another such practical joke was played upon the late Mrs. Rudersdorf by Sir Michael Costa, the conductor. At rehearsal one day the lady declared that she could not sing her song as it was written, but must have it transposed half a note lower.

"But, madam," said Costa, "consider the inconvenience, especially to the wind instruments, and particularly as all my men cannot be counted upon to transpose at sight."

But madame was obstinate, and Costa, shrugging his shoulders, bowed in acquiescence.

"Very well, gentlemen," said he, turning to the bewildered orchestra, and closing his score. "To-morrow you will play it a note lower."

The next day, however, just before Mrs. Rudersdorf came on to sing, Costa whispered to the orchestra: "In the original key! No change." And so it was sung.

At the close of the air the singer turned to Costa and thanked him warmly.

"I am charmed," she said.

"Madame," replied Costa, with a touch of pleasant irony, "we are also charmed. You sang it in the original key."

Had Mrs. Rudersdorf's ear been as unerringly correct as that of certain phenomenal musicians the joke could never have been successfully carried out, but the conductor, of course, knew with whom he had to deal.—Youth's Companion.

Disease in Books.

"I sometimes am almost led to believe that the intellectual benefit derived from a public library is outweighed by the physical detriment," were the words that fell from the lips of a distinguished physician a day or two ago, as he rather gingerly handled a greasy looking volume that ornamented the mantel piece of a patient's sick chamber.

"Not only is a bookworm's absorption often injurious to his health, but it is a well authenticated fact that disease may be written between the lines of books, be they fiction, poetry or theology. The average patron of a circulating library is a person not over scrupulous as to the care of a borrowed volume. He will allow filth to accumulate rapidly within and without, and if a member of the household be stricken with measles, or scarlatina, or even diphtheria or small-pox, like as not the book will find its way into the presence or the lap of the invalid, to be transferred thence a little later to the shelves of the library, and then to the hands of some unsuspecting reader."

"The leaves of the book easily absorb the germs of disease that float in the atmosphere. Microscopes have brought to light the fact that bacilli sometimes overspread a page with the frequency of periods and commas." The handling of such a book might be fatal to the reader. It is not actually known that many illnesses result from such causes, but there is always the danger."—Indianapolis Sun.

A London Cabbie's English.

One does not expect to speak his mother tongue in the highways and byways of Paris, Berlin or Vienna, but in London one hopes at least to be understood, as is often not the case. A Washingtonian doing the sights of this English capital ordered his cabman to drive to the Alhambra. "Where is it, sir," asked the cabbie. "Well, my man, that's what I don't know and what you ought to know, if you pretend to know your business." Poor cabbie was nonplussed and asserted with evident mortification that though he had made his living as a London cabbie since boyhood he had never heard of such a place as the Alhambra. "Why," said the much amused American, "it's a place where they have music and dancing and plenty to drink." "Oh! it's the Holmbury you mean, sir," and with a sarcastic smile on his face at the pronunciation of his American cousin he drove to the place in question.—Washington Herald.

An Interesting Family.

Old Mrs. Baron Mure told me that Lord Byron's mother was a fool and his father was a rascal. He poisoned his first wife, Lady Caermarthen, who was divorced from him because her father, Lord Holderness, left his money to her illegitimate children, and he had nothing more to expect. Miss Gordon, though she was told of this, and had a fortune of $3,000 a year, married him. He spent all her estate, saving about $20 a year, on which she lived with her son in a garret at Aberdeen, supported in a great measure by her friends, who, when they killed a cow or sheep, would send her part. She was always fat. When Mrs. Siddons appeared first in Edinburgh Miss Gordon took a hysterical fit in the playhouse, clung round Mrs. Mure's neck, kicked off her shoes, and was carried out by Mr. Dundas, now chief baron, and put into Lord Napier's carriage, which conveyed her, screaming all the way, to George's square, where she then resided with Baron Clark's mother.—Charles K. Sharpe.

Tells on itself.

"I wish I knew how to tell a good egg from a bad one," writes a young housekeeper; "they all look alike to me." Look at 'em with your nose. You must be blind if you couldn't hear the difference then.—Burdette in Brooklyn Eagle.

Nye County Sheep Tax.

In the case of J. G. Ford & Co. vs. Charles McGregor, Assessor of Nye county, District Judge T. H. Wells has decided in favor of defendant. This means, says the Belmont Courier, that horses, cattle and sheep that are grazing in Nye county are assessable in Nye county, whether the owners of such stock claim their residence in Nye or not.

NEW TO-DAY.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said to "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, never attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity of people so generally.

Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Sold by all druggists. At 61c per doz. Prepared only by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.

TEHAMA COUNTY.

10,375 27-100% Acres.

Township 25 N, Range 7 W, Mt. Diablo Meridian.

This township lies on the eastern slope of the Coast Range of mountains, and from 13 to 25 miles west from Hed Bluff, the county seat of Tehama County. The field notes of the U. S. surveyors for it, but this township, says: "This township is well adapted for grazing, as it affords pasturage for large herds of cattle. It is well watered by the various tributaries of Elk Creek. It is also very valuable for its timber which consists of a heavy growth of yellow pine, sugar pine, spruce, and cedar. There is a heavy growth of chaparral, chemical and manzanita [sic]." The even sections are in most instances government land, so that the parts most valuable as adjacents to this range might easily be secured at government price, namely $3.00 per acre for single quarter section.

In Section 9, coal was discovered recently by some herders, but nothing has been done to develop the mine although samples which have been tested show the coal to be of excellent quality.

We are assured that a Railroad heading for the Coast, and running through the Coast Range timber belt will be built very near this range. Price for the whole, consisting of 10,375 27-100 acres will be $35,000.
